CHAITANYA
(DEEMED TO BE UNIVERSITY)
(Approved u/s. 3 of UGC act. 1956 by MHRD, Govt. of India)

INSTITUTION'S INNOVATION COUNCIL
(Ministry of Education Initiative)

17.4.3. Educational activities for wider community, which could include alumni, local residents, displaced people

Chaitanya Deemed to be University is deeply committed to its social responsibility of serving humanity through education. The university believes that education must transcend the classroom and empower individuals and communities to improve their quality of life. In line with its vision of promoting holistic development, Chaitanya Deemed to be University has developed several structured outreach programs that engage alumni, local residents, and marginalized groups including displaced and underprivileged communities in educational and capacity-building activities.

The university's outreach initiatives are guided by the institution's belief in inclusive and sustainable development. The university's Extension and Outreach Cell collaborates with government agencies, NGOs, and local bodies to design and implement programs that address pressing community needs. These initiatives focus on literacy promotion, digital empowerment, environmental awareness, health and hygiene education, and skill development.

One of Chaitanya Deemed to be University's hallmark programs is its Community Education and Skill Development Initiative, which offers short-term courses and workshops to local youth and women from economically weaker sections. Through these programs, participants acquire practical skills in areas such as computer literacy, tailoring, handicrafts, and entrepreneurship. The initiative has significantly enhanced employability and self-reliance among local residents, contributing to economic upliftment and social inclusion.

Chaitanya Deemed to be University also plays an active role in adult and continuing education, organizing literacy campaigns and awareness drives in nearby communities. Faculty members and student volunteers conduct weekend teaching sessions in adopted villages, helping to bridge the educational gap among adults and school dropouts. The National Service Scheme (NSS) and Unnat Bharat Abhiyan (UBA) units at Chaitanya Deemed to be University are instrumental in implementing these outreach programs, fostering a sense of civic responsibility and compassion among students.

The university has established strong partnerships with its alumni network, leveraging their expertise and resources to expand outreach impact. Alumni are regularly involved in mentoring rural youth, offering career guidance sessions, and sponsoring scholarships for underprivileged students. These efforts help maintain a vibrant and socially conscious alumni community that continues to contribute to the university's mission of serving society.

Health awareness and environmental education form another major pillar of Chaitanya Deemed to be University's outreach. The university organizes medical camps, blood donation drives, and mental health awareness sessions in collaboration with local healthcare institutions. Additionally, environmental outreach activities such as tree-planting drives, waste management workshops, and campaigns promoting sustainable practices encourage local residents to adopt eco-friendly lifestyles.

The university's commitment extends to addressing the educational needs of displaced and marginalized groups. The university periodically conducts bridge courses and language training for migrant workers and their families, enabling smoother social integration and access to basic education. These initiatives reflect Chaitanya Deemed to be University's inclusive educational philosophy that recognizes education as a universal right.

Through its sustained outreach programs, Chaitanya Deemed to be University has emerged as a catalyst for community development and social transformation. The university's engagement with the wider community not only enriches society but also provides its students with valuable experiential learning opportunities, nurturing empathy, leadership, and social awareness. Chaitanya Deemed to be University's enduring commitment to education for humanity exemplifies its role as an institution that truly transforms lives through knowledge, compassion, and service.

Strengths

- Clarity and Organization: The content is well-divided into thematic sections (Skill Development, Displaced People, Alumni Engagement, etc.), each with a clear link to specific SDGs.
- Strong Alignment with SDGs: Each initiative explicitly ties into one or more SDGs, which demonstrates strategic integration.
- Community-Centered Approach: The inclusion of displaced populations, vulnerable groups, and local communities reflects Chaitanya Deemed to be University's social responsibility and inclusive ethos.

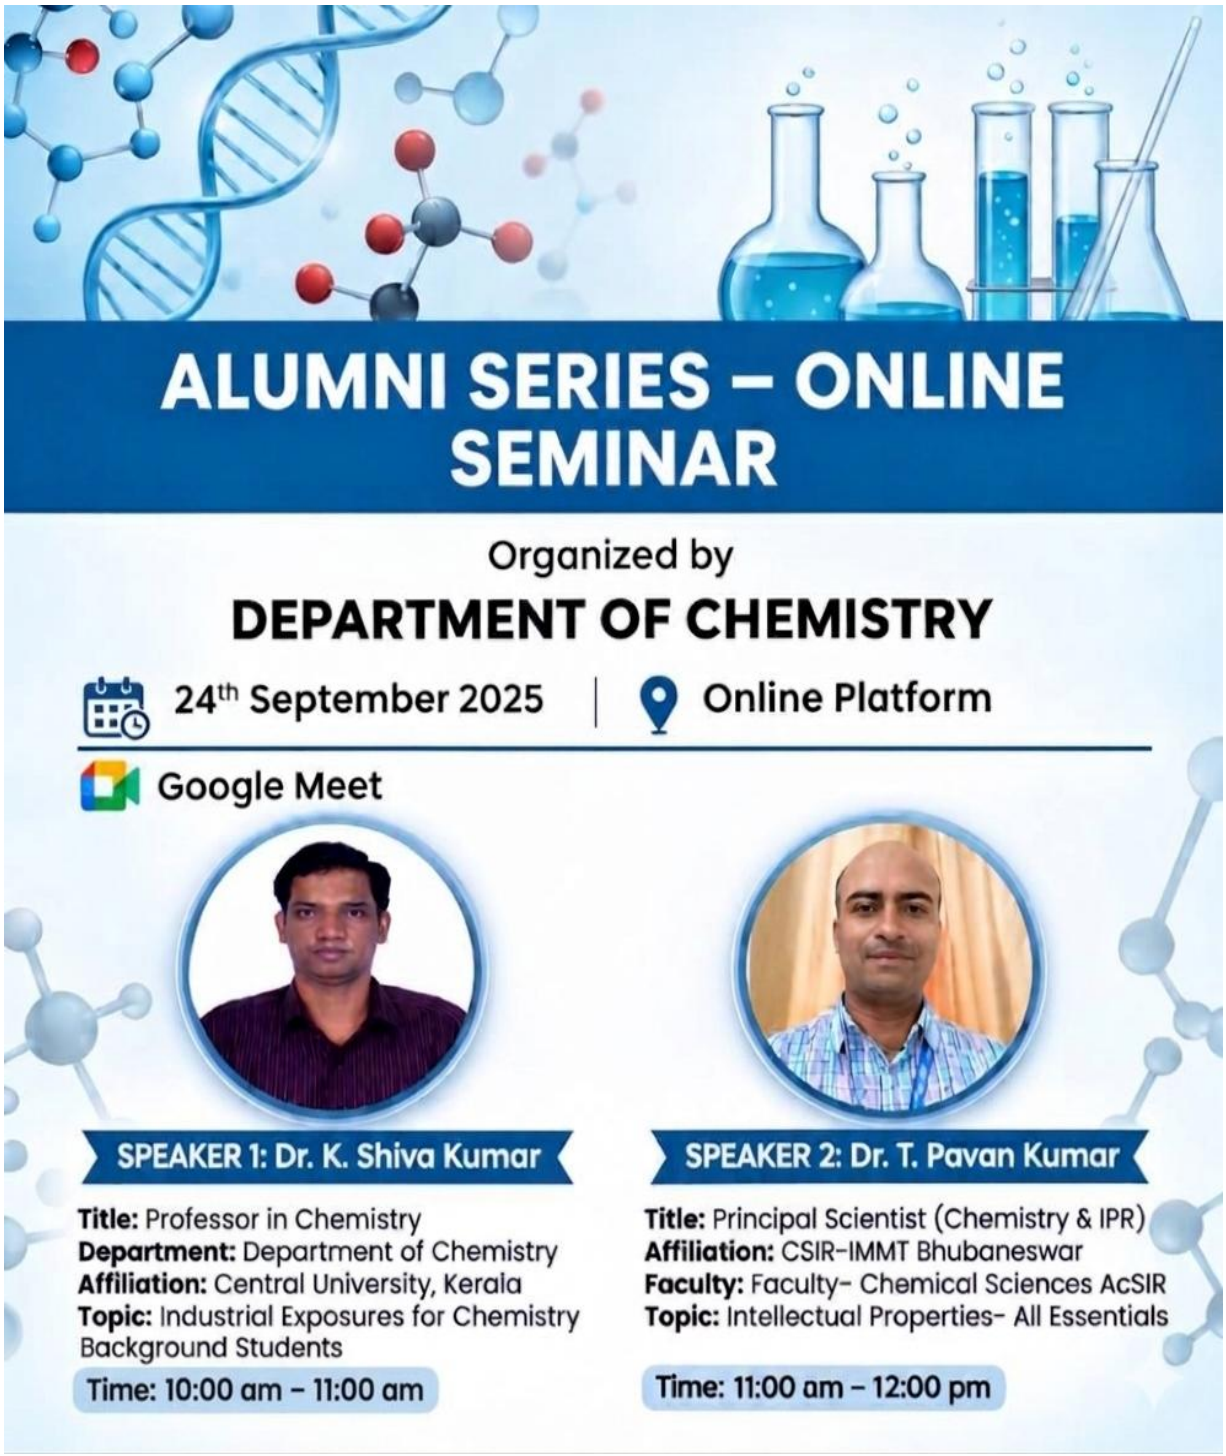

- Collaborative Emphasis: Frequent references to partnerships with NGOs and government bodies strengthen the narrative of Chaitanya Deemed to be University as a collaborative and socially active institution.

Evidence of educational activity for wider community – Alumni

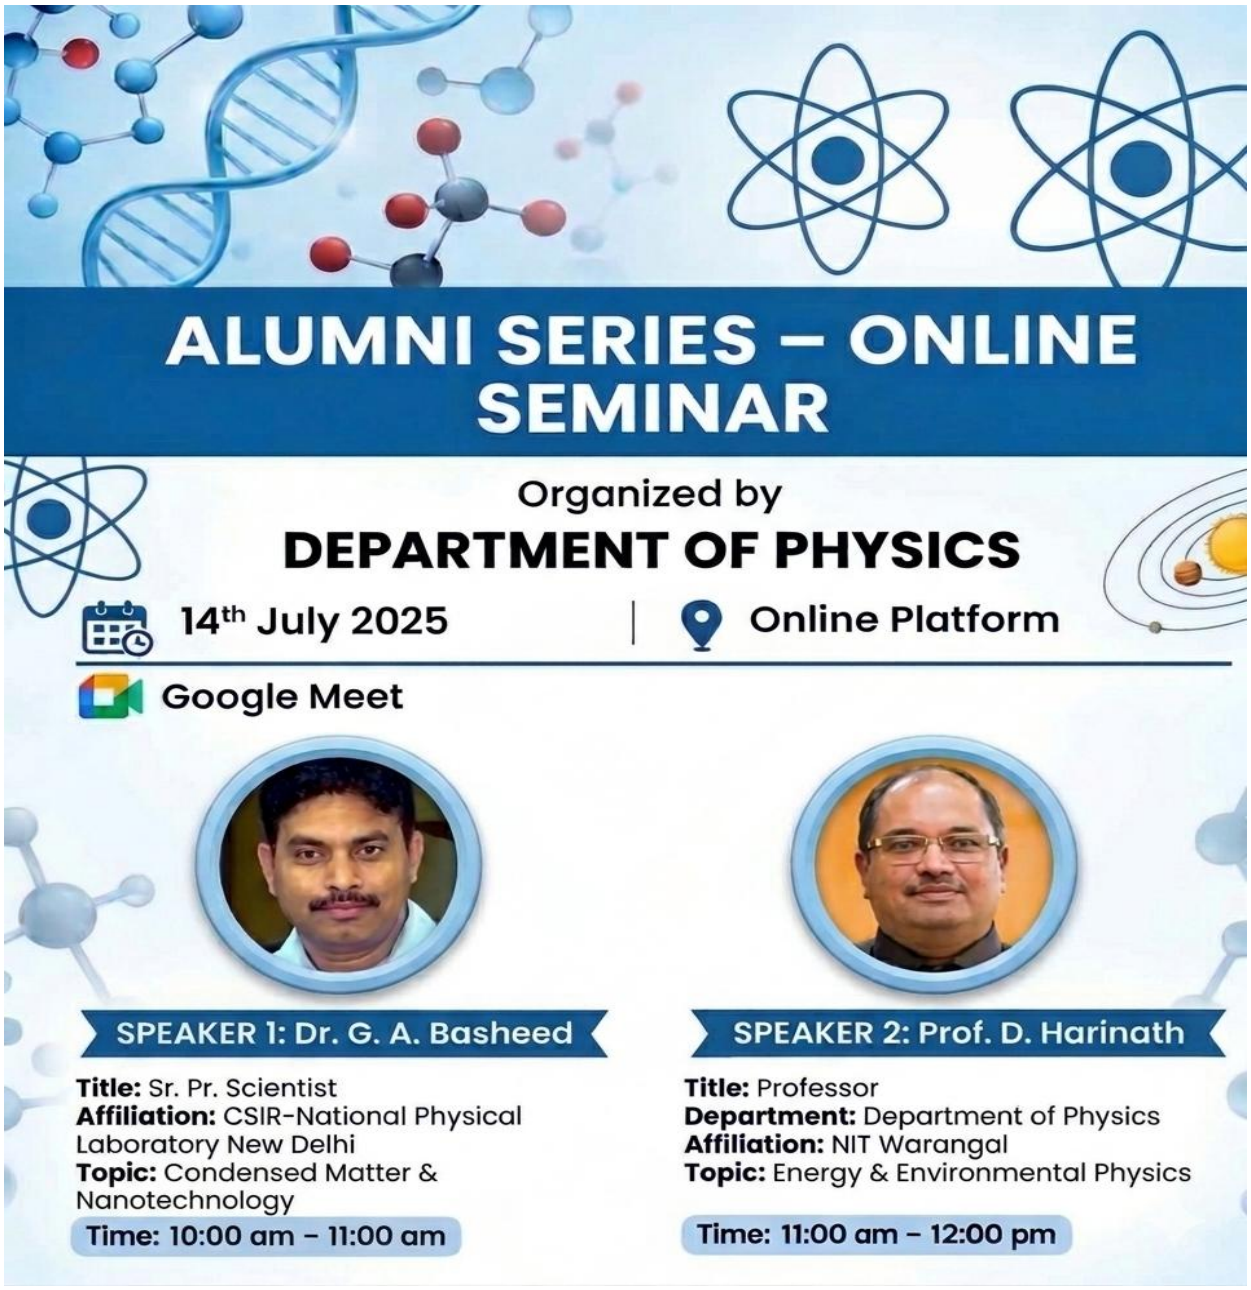

Chaitanya Deemed to be University actively strengthens its commitment to SDG 17.4.3 by organizing a range of seminars, workshops, and capacity-building programmes that engage and empower its alumni community. These initiatives foster sustained partnerships, continuous knowledge exchange, and collaborative growth between the institution and its graduates.

Through expert-led seminars, professional up skilling sessions, and thematic programmes on emerging trends, Chaitanya Deemed to be University provides alumni with platforms to update their technical competencies, share industry insights, and participate in collective problem-solving. The institution also encourages alumni to contribute as resource persons, mentors, and collaborators, thereby reinforcing a mutually beneficial ecosystem of learning and innovation.

These seminars not only enhance alumni's career development but also create avenues for them to support current students through guidance, networking, and community engagement. By nurturing such long-term, inclusive, and impactful connections, Chaitanya Deemed to be University ensures that its alumni programmes meaningfully advance SDG 17 – Partnerships for the Goals, particularly 17.4.3, which emphasizes educational outreach and capacity building for the wider community.

Brochure for Organizing Webinar for Alumni

Brochure for Organizing Webinar for Alumni

Also, Chaitanya Deemed to be University actively promotes collaborative partnerships for sustainable development, and its Annual Alumni Meet stands as a significant platform to advance SDG 17.4.3. The event is designed not only as a reunion but also as a capacity-building initiative that extends educational benefits to the wider community.

The university organized its 30th year Pearl JUBILEE ALUMNI MEET on the university campus. As part of the Alumni Meet, Chaitanya Deemed to be University invites accomplished alumni from diverse fields such as engineering, technology, management, healthcare, entrepreneurship, and research to engage with current students and community members. These alumni conduct technical knowledge sessions, hands-on demonstrations, motivational talks, and industry-oriented workshops. Their contributions help bridge the knowledge gap between academic learning and real-world professional requirements, ensuring that students and local participants gain updated technical skills, exposure to new technologies, and insights into current market trends.

Additionally, alumni experts provide career guidance, including tips on resume building, interview preparation, professional ethics, and pathways to higher education and global opportunities. These sessions empower community youth and aspiring professionals to make informed decisions and improve employability.

A highlight of the event is the presentation of the Best Alumni Award, which recognizes outstanding alumni who have significantly contributed to societal development, innovation, and institutional growth. This recognition not only honours individual achievements but also inspires other graduates to actively participate in community outreach, knowledge sharing, and collaborative development initiatives.

Through these educational activities, the Chaitanya Deemed to be University Alumni Meet fosters a strong network of cooperation between the institution, its graduates, and the wider community. The event exemplifies the spirit of SDG 17.4.3 by facilitating long-term partnerships, enhancing community skills, promoting inclusive access to technical knowledge, and strengthening collective efforts toward sustainable development.

Alumni receiving best alumni award

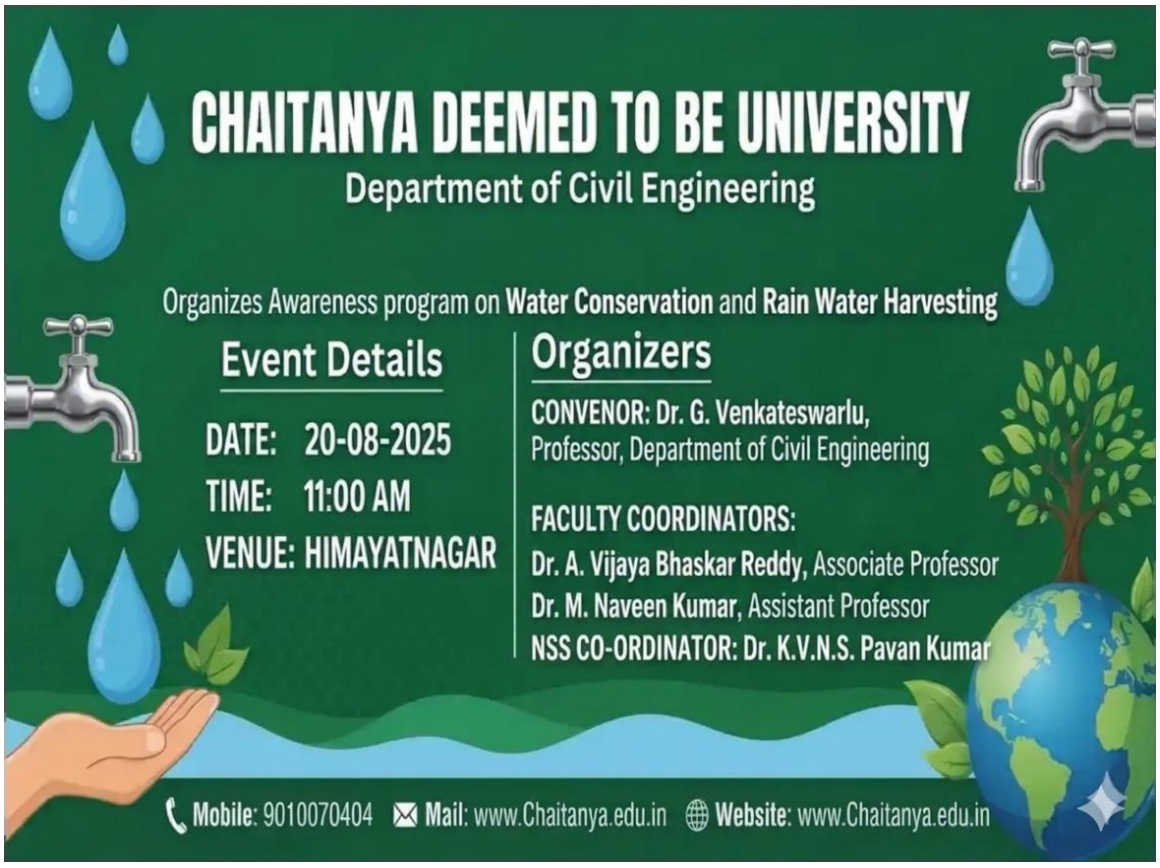

Group Photo with the alumni of Chaitanya Deemed to be University

Evidence of educational activity for wider community – Local Residents

Name of the program	Awareness program for Water conservation and Rain water Harvesting Venue: Himayath Nagar village, Moinabad (M),Ranga Reddy Dist.
Date& Timing 20th August 2025 10.00 am to 2.00 pm
Convener	Dr. G. Venkateswarlu, Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, Chaitanya Deemed to be University

The program successfully raised awareness and motivated local village residents to adopt water-saving measures, underscoring Chaitanya Deemed to be University's dedication to environmental responsibility.

Programme Brochure for organising educational activity for local community

NSS Team and Participants

Team conducting awareness programme for local community

Team creating awareness on water conservation and rain water harvesting for local community

Evidence of educational activity for wider community – Displaced People

Awareness Programme on Self-Employment for Displaced People

Name of the program	Awareness program for Displaced people on Self-Employment
Date& Timing : 15th Oct 2025	9:00 am to 1:00 pm
Venue	Chaitanya Deemed to be University

Chaitanya Deemed to be University undergoes community-oriented educational initiatives to support displaced people currently living in the region and working as daily-wage labourers. The university organizes awareness programmes that introduce these individuals to self-employment opportunities, enabling them to move towards stable and independent livelihoods.

The sessions focus on practical skills such as small-scale entrepreneurship, setting up home-based businesses, basic financial planning, and accessing government schemes and micro-credit options. By collaborating with local NGOs, social welfare departments, and student volunteers, Chaitanya Deemed to be University builds strong partnerships to deliver sustained capacity-building support.

This initiative empowers displaced families to enhance their economic resilience, reduce vulnerability, and work towards long-term livelihood security, demonstrating Chaitanya Deemed to be University's commitment to inclusive community development and cross-sector partnerships.

Awareness programme on Self-Employment for displaced people

Conclusion:

The educational outreach activity conducted by Chaitanya Deemed to be University, involving alumni, the local community, and displaced populations, stands as a strong demonstration of the institution's commitment to SDG 17.4.3. By bringing together diverse stakeholders, the programme created a collaborative platform for knowledge sharing, skill development, and inclusive community empowerment.

Alumni contributed significantly by offering technical guidance, career insights, and hands-on training sessions tailored to the needs of vulnerable groups, particularly displaced individuals striving for livelihood opportunities. The active participation of the local community enriched the programme, ensuring that the learning environment remained supportive, culturally sensitive, and rooted in real-world needs.

Through this initiative, Chaitanya Deemed to be University not only extended educational resources beyond its campus but also strengthened long-term partnerships that promote sustainable development. The activity enabled marginalized groups to build confidence and acquire practical skills, while alumni reconnected with the institution in a meaningful and socially impactful manner.